1. What is the Access Foundation Programme?

The Access Foundation Programme is a preparation for higher education programme. The programme prepares students personally and academically to pursue undergraduate programmes across a range of disciplines in TU Dublin (City, Tallaght and Blanchardstown campuses), including Science & Health, Engineering & Built Environment, Business and Arts & Tourism.

The programme is designed to provide an entry route into TU Dublin for (i) mature students and (ii) young adults who have experienced socio-economic and educational disadvantage.

Students who successfully complete the programme will be offered a place on an appropriate undergraduate course at TU Dublin. We will offer guidance and support during the year to help students to identify suitable undergraduate options at TU Dublin.

2. What are the entry requirements?

Mature Students (22 years of age or over on the 1st of January 2019):

There are no standard educational requirements, such as the Leaving Certificate or an aptitude test, but all applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Be a mature student. Applicants who are 22 years of age or over on the 1st of January on the year of entry are considered mature students.
- Be able to demonstrate a desire to pursue third level programmes and a level of learning ability suitable to do so.
- Demonstrate an ability to communicate effectively in English at level suitable to commencing the programme.
- Candidates who already hold a higher education qualification (level 6 Higher Certificate award or above) will normally be considered ineligible.
- Non-EU/EEA candidates must be ordinarily resident in Ireland and have Visa/GNIB stamp 4 status or have been granted an international protection status in Ireland.
- Be ordinarily resident within the EU/EEA/Swiss Confederation for 2 out of the last 4 years.

Young Adults (21 years of age or younger on the 1st of January 2019):

This programme offers opportunities to young adults who have experienced socio-economic disadvantage. To be considered eligible applicants must satisfy three of the following SED indicators:

1. Parents have not gone to college (higher education).
2. Applicant has attended a DEIS school for at least 2 years.
3. Family income thresholds for 2017 are below the following:

Less than 4		€45,790
4-7		€50,325
More than 8		€54,630
Add €4,670 to the total income for every sibling/parent enrolled in a full time college, university or post leaving certificate further education course.

4. Be from a socio economic group underrepresented in higher education.
5. Live in an area of urban or rural disadvantage.
6. Family received a means tested payment from the Department of Social Protection for at least 26 weeks in the tax year two years prior to the year of application. For example, applicants for 2019 must submit financial documentation for 2017.

Special consideration is given to applicants from the Traveller Community and applicants who are/were in the care of the state.

There are no standard educational requirements, such as the Leaving Certificate or an aptitude test, but all applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Be able to demonstrate a desire to pursue third level programmes and a level of learning ability suitable to do so.
- Demonstrate an ability to communicate effectively in English at level suitable to commencing the programme.
- Candidates who already hold a higher education qualification (level 6 Higher Certificate award or above) will normally be considered ineligible.
- Non-EU/EEA candidates must be ordinarily resident in Ireland and have Visa/GNIB stamp 4 status or have been granted an international protection status in Ireland.
- Be ordinarily resident within the EU/EEA/Swiss Confederation for 2 out of the last 4 years.

3. What do I study on the Programme?

Students study 8 modules each semester (6 core modules + 2 option modules). The core modules include Applied Writing, Maths, Study Skills and Research Skills, Information Technology, Communication Skills and Introduction to Higher Education. The programme offers 3 levels of maths modules which students choose from – Fundamental Maths, Intermediate Maths or Advanced Maths.

Through the core modules students will learn how to research and write academic work, and improve their information technology, communication and study skills.

Additionally students choose two modules designed to familiarise students in the academic disciplines they are interested in pursuing. These are:

Programme optional modules: students choose 2 each semester
Semester 1	Semester 2
Introduction to Humanities	Approaches to Humanities
Introduction to Social Science	Applied Social Science
Introduction to Marketing	Introduction to Management
Introduction to Financial Accounting	Introduction to Economics
Computer Science Fundamentals (Networking Technologies)	Computer Science Fundamentals 2 (Programming)
Engineering (Electronic and Electrical)	Mechanical Engineering
Introduction to Chemistry	Applied Chemistry
Fundamental Physics	Applied Physics
Human Biology	Cell Biology and Genetics
Art Portfolio Preparation (year long)	Art Portfolio Preparation (year long)
Introduction to Irish History	Cultural Tourism

N.B. Modules offered on the Access Foundation Programme are subject to change.

4. What happens after I complete the programme?

Students who successfully complete the programme will be offered a place on an appropriate undergraduate course at TU Dublin. We will offer support and CAO advice during the year to help students to identify suitable options at TU Dublin. Offers of TU Dublin undergraduate places are made to students by an Admissions Board (through the CAO) based on students' academic performance on the programme.

Mature students may apply to other Higher Education Institutions through their CAO applications.

5. How many places are available?

There are 150 places available. 20% of places are ordinarily reserved for young adult applicants.

6. Are there any fees for the programme?

The programme is free of charge. However students on the course are not eligible to apply for a Further Education / Higher Education grant. Students may be eligible for the Back to Education Allowance (see <http://www.welfare.ie> for more information).

7. What is the time commitment?

The programme is full-time with approximately 22 hours of class time per week and a further 20 hours of independent study. The programme runs from September to May each year. Classes take place between the hours of 9am and 6pm, Monday to Friday.

8. What expectations should students be aware of?

Participation: This programme requires a high degree of participation. Regular attendance at lectures, tutorials and student support sessions is expected. Showing up to classes prepared and participating in in-class discussion and debate are an important part of being successful on the programme.

Time Management: Students will develop their time management and planning skills in the Study Skills module. Students are expected to manage their workload across all modules and to meet assessment deadlines as they arise. Students are provided with an Assessment Schedule, detailing the dates of all assessments, at the beginning of each semester.

Assessments: Students are assessed through a variety of methods including essays and reports, online multiple choice questionnaires, in-class presentations and assessments, formal exams and group work activities. Much of this work is done outside of class and requires an ability to work independently.

Stay connected: Students should regularly check their email and Webcourses for updates. We will help set you up and get you started using TU Dublin email and other online resources in the Information Technology module.

Engagement: Where appropriate students are expected engage with programme and college supports including one-to-one and group support meetings with the programme coordinator.

Successful completion: Students are required to pass all of their assigned modules to successfully complete the programme.

Respect: We work to promote a positive teaching and learning environment based on respect for the individual learner and the diversity of the student body. Students are expected to respect their fellow peers and college staff.

9. How do I apply?

Applications are made directly to TU Dublin by way of a paper application form. You do not apply through the CAO.

There are separate application forms for mature students and young adults. Please ensure you complete the correct form.

The application form requires the following:

- a. A personal statement outlining your motivation for going to college and the reasons for choosing the Access Foundation Programme.
- b. A hand-written essay (essay titles are listed on the application form).
- c. A copy of your qualifications, where possible.
- d. Proof of identity for all applicants. If you are a Non-EU/EEA citizen please include a copy of your GNIB card showing stamp 4 status or proof of international protection status.

Applications are made directly to the Access Foundation Programme. Applicants are assessed for eligibility and suitability and those shortlisted will be called for interview. Offers are made to candidates based on the application form and interview.

12. What our former students say

“It was one of the best experiences of my life. All the students were in “the same boat” so to speak, really nervous starting out, not knowing what was ahead or how we would cope. We became like one big family, helping and supporting each other” - Karen, 4th year of DT491 Environmental Health

“The programme removed that fear and anxiety of the unknown. By the time I started my first year in Clinical Measurement I had a pretty good idea of what lay ahead and how to deal with it. The programme is the most effective way of preparing someone for third level. Now that I am nearly a qualified clinical physiologist, the sky is the limit. I intend to go places so to speak” – Tendai, graduated in DT229 Clinical Measurement Science in 2014/15.

“I cannot speak highly enough of the team at the Access Foundation Programme. The work and passion they put into our year was one which I know will remain with me for many years. My year on the programme was extremely rewarding – it’s as simple as that! You will find strengths inside you that you did not think you had” – Paul, graduated in DT565 Chinese and International Business in 2014/15.

“From the first day of attending the programme to the very last, one word captures that experience, it was the opening and the last word of my reflective journal, WOW! I can’t begin to explain completely the effect the Access Foundation Programme has had on me and the confidence it has instilled in me. I’ve never been happier in myself and with the significant difference it has made in my relationships with my wife and our children” – John, graduated in DT571 Social Care 2014/15.
